

Arlington Lofts, Camden

Arlington Lofts is the partial refurbishment of a 1930s electricity substation with large warehouse style windows. Providing 21 apartments of which 16 are private sale and five are affordable rent, the apartments sit behind a distinctive red brick facade in the heart of Camden. Arlington Lofts is a prime example of preserving historical architecture for a brand new purpose. The inside of each property has a unique layout, turning the previously disused building into brand new homes for the local community.
