Phase three of the transformation of the Green Man Lane estate in West Ealing is completed, delivering new apartments, maisonettes and houses. The development started in 2013 and is a five phase project replacing 464 flats with a mix of 770 one to four bedroom homes. Phase two delivered 187 new private sale and affordable homes, including over 20 homes for wheelchair users.

The regeneration scheme also includes an eco-friendly energy centre, community café, public parks, play areas and a new primary school. Awarded Best Regeneration Project at the Evening Standard New Homes Awards, the scheme is a joint venture with Rydon and has been designed by Conran and Partners.
